NEW JOB OPENINGS

1. Auburn University, Auburn, Alabama 36830.
   Position: Chairman, Department of History.
   Description: Applicants for the chairmanship should possess appropriate qualifications at the Associate or Full Professor level, and have a strong background in teaching, research, and publication. Prior administrative experience is of course desirable, though not an absolute requirement. The salary offered will be commensurate with rank and qualifications. The deadline for applications is February 15, 1977.
   Note: Auburn University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.
   Contact: Send vitae, three letters of recommendation, and reprints or other appropriate supporting materials to Professor W. Davis Lewis, Hudson Professor of History and Engineering, 7030 Haley Center.

   The following advertisement appeared in Science, December 10, 1976; Historian of Science-Chemist, September 1977, permanent position at 4-year liberal arts college. Requires participating in interdisciplinary general education program as historian of science, preferably ancient and medieval periods. Formal training in history of science required. Also teach beginning chemistry and one advanced chemistry course. Experience and excellence in teaching important. Contact Dr. Paul Curtis, Eisenhower College, Seneca Falls, New York 13148, for application information. An Equal Opportunity Employer.

   Position: One-year temporary appointment at Assistant Professor level; Ph.D. required.
   Description: Historian of Science sought; field of specialization open. Teach courses in history of science and a general course in History of Western Civilization.
   Note: Kenyon College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.
   Deadline for Applications: February 1, 1977.
   Contact: Professor Michael Evans, Department of History.